

Long-Term Care

Unique Household Model

United Methodist Communities at Bristol Glen understands the value of independence and self-determination. With this in mind, a household living environment, which is cozy and homelike, gives residents the ability to experience fulfilling and self-directed lives. Long-term care offers supportive and compassionate services assisting with complex conditions, frailty, rapidly changing health status, or chronic health issues. Residents have access to skilled health care teams. Comfort is an essential ingredient to living life on your own terms with individualized care plans customized to support your well-being.

Connection to Family and Personalized Support

Knowing the importance of staying closely connected to friends and family, Bristol Glen offers gathering spaces for in-person visits. Wi-Fi technology is available to enable digital communication. Multi-disciplinary teams include registered and licensed practical nurses, certified nursing assistants, social workers, chaplains, and physical, speech and occupational therapists. Nurses and aides deliver services around-the-clock.
